ST. JOHNS, N. F., Sept. 2.—The British government has directed that for the remainder of the present season all shipping between Canadian and British ports should abandon the route through Bell Isle strait and use that by way of Cape Race exclusively. This will enable the cruisers now employed on the North Atlantic to give more efficient supervision to shipping and protection from any possible interference by German warships. A cordon of British warships stretches from Cape Race eastward to the British coast and another patrols the ocean sufficiently far south to guard all British shipping traversing the North Atlantic.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—A dispatch to the Reuter Telegram Company from St. Petersburg says that by imperial order the city of St. Petersburg, capital of the Russian Empire since 1712, will henceforth be known as Petrograd. This change eliminates the Teuton construction in the name by which the chief city of Russia has been known since it was founded by Peter the Great in 1703.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 2.—Associated Press dispatches state that the fourth day of the battle now being waged between the Germans and allies finds Emperor William's forces pressing with unprecedented strength their advance on Paris. Their right is reported to be within fifty miles of the French capital. In the absence of official announcements news dispatches indicate that the British and French continue a stubborn resistance, giving way slowly whenever this strategy is necessary to keep their line intact and prevent an enveloping movement by the German right.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Telegraphing from Paris to-day the correspondent of the Daily News says that an old campaigner who came in at the Northern railway station this morning, describing the battle he saw Tuesday morning, said: "Of one thing you can be assured; murderous, as was the German onslaught, their attack was repulsed. From news which has reached me from many sources, I fear you must be prepared to hear of heavy losses."

LONDON, Sept. 2.—A corner of the curtain over the battle drama in Northwestern France has momentarily been raised. It shows the allies battling desperately to prevent the German assault on the Upper Oise, less than fifty miles from Paris. The British are fighting desperately to prevent the Germans from securing one of the most direct routes to Paris. News of this battle reaching here from two different sources is the first definite information since the result of the battle of Mons. The battle raged Sunday and Monday and by sheer weight of numbers the Germans secured a slight advance. Military experts point out that from the present position on the Upper Oise river the German advance will become increasingly difficult, owing to the natural features of the country, as well as the artificial defenses that will have to be encountered.

ROME, Sept. 3.—The Russian embassy has been notified that the Austrians were overwhelmingly defeated near Lemberg, losing more than 100,000 men and 57 cannon. The occupation of the city of Lemberg was said to be imminent.

ROME, Sept. 3.—A telegram from Nish, Servia, says that in a battle at Jadar, between 200,000 Austrians and 180,000 Servians, the latter put 140,000 Austrian soldiers "hors de combat."

PARIS, Sept. 2.—A fight in the air over Paris took place this evening. Three German aeroplanes hovered over the capital, and immediately two French machines were sent up to engage them.

Meanwhile rifles and machine guns mounted on public buildings kept up a constant fire. By this means one of the German machines became separated from the others and the French aviators flew swiftly in its direction. The German opened fire, to which the Frenchmen replied vigorously.

JOHN LANCASTER ENDS LIFE WITH A RAZOR.

Mr. John Lancaster, a former citizen of Paris, where he was for many years engaged in the sewing machine business, made an attempt at self-destruction Wednesday night, by cutting his throat and slashing his wrists with a razor, his wounds resulting in death at the Massie Memorial Hospital about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Lancaster had been residing at Brooksville, Bracken county, for several years after leaving Paris, and being in bad health for some time came to the Massie Hospital, in this city, where a surgical operation was performed some time ago in the hope of affording him relief. After leaving the Hospital, he went to the home of Mr. Martin J. Glenn, on the Glenn pike, near this city, where he had been about three weeks in hopes of getting relief and rest. He had suffered greatly from insomnia and complained of inability to get sleep.

On Wednesday night when supper was announced Mr. Lancaster failed to appear and a search was made for him. He was found on the floor of the stable with blood flowing from gaping wounds in his throat and wrists. Medical assistance was hurriedly summoned and he was taken in an automobile to the Massie Hospital, where he lingered between life and death until late yesterday afternoon, when death gave him release.

Mr. Lancaster was one of the most popular men in Paris. He was a brother of Mr. Charles Lancaster, of Paris, and of the late Mr. James Lancaster. He leaves a family in Brooksville. A son, Mr. Jos. Lancaster, of Lexington, was with him when the end came.

The funeral arrangements had not been completed as we go to press.

PARIS CITY SCHOOLS WILL OPEN SEPT. 7.

The city schools of Paris will open on next Monday, Sept. 7, which is also county court day, at the regular morning hours, when the classes will be organized.

Superintendent Hendricks said the books will be on hand, and all the rooms will be in readiness for the coming of the pupils and teachers.

Old text books may be exchanged for new ones adopted this year, but only texts of the same grade and subjects may be exchanged on a basis of fifty per cent. of the cost of the new ones. State Superintendent Hamlett has ruled that any text book in such condition that it could have been used by the pupil if the adoption had not been changed, may be exchanged at the local dealers.

Superintendent Hendricks has called a teachers' council to be held at the High School building to-morrow (Saturday) morning to prepare for the opening.

The text books will all have to be changed this year, the last session of the Legislature making it mandatory on the part of school boards to adopt books for another five years. The Board of Education, assisted by the Superintendent and teachers, have given much time to the selection of the new books, and they consider the new texts a most excellent selection and that the new books would enable the teachers to obtain better results than was possible with the old lists.

The faculty for the coming term remains about the same, as follows: Superintendent—T. A. Hendricks; Principal High School—O. L. Schultz; Principal Grammar Department—Miss Jessie Crisp; Vocal Music—Miss Leora A. Wiard; Art and Drawing—Mrs. Evelyn Buck; Physical Education and Elocution—Miss Edith M. Brittain.

High School—Teachers: O. L. Schultz, E. T. Proctor, C. P. Lancaster, Fritz Nihart, Misses Frances Butler, Josie Alexander, Jessie Crisp, Bettie Smith, Jennie Howard, Annie Farrell, Jessie Claire Brannon, Helen Hutchcraft, Lizzie Lenihan, Bess Purnell, Esther L. Stone, Sallie A. Whaley, Mason Talbot, Mary Layton, Blanche Lilleston, Mrs. Ernest Harris; Mrs. Newton Mitchell, Truant Officer.

INSURANCE MAN ARRESTED HERE WANTED IN LOUISIANA.

N. S. Mullins, alias J. C. Murray, an insurance solicitor who had been working here for some time, was placed under arrest Wednesday morning by Acting Chief of Police Geo. W. Judy, on telegraphic information from the Sheriff of Caddo Parish, Louisiana. Mullins was wanted in Louisiana on a charge of vagrancy and a statutory charge, and also for jumping a bail bond of $250.

The arrest was made upon receipt of requisition papers issued from Frankfort, Tuesday night by Acting Governor E. J. McDermott. The Louisiana authorities forwarded a photo of Mullins, which was received here about the same time the requisition papers arrived. Chief Judy immediately set out in quest of the man wanted, and in an hour had located him at the Fordham Hotel and placed him under arrest. Mullins submitted quietly and made no comment.

Under the laws of Louisiana the charges upon which Mullins' arrest was made constitute a felony.

Mullins had been working in various capacities in the insurance business through the South and finally landed in Paris, where he was located by the Louisiana authorities.

He will be held here awaiting the arrival of an officer to take him back for trial.

BOURBON COUNTY TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

In the absence of Prof. A. S. MacKenzie, of Lexington, who was to conduct the Institute, Prof. B. S. Eubank, of Lexington, presided at the session of the Bourbon County Teachers' Institute, which convened at the courthouse in this city, Monday morning. Addresses were delivered by Prof. Eubank; Miss Ruth VanPelt, of Frankfort; Prof. Jonhson, and Misses Clay and Clarke, of Paris.

Mr. J. F. Faulconer, representing the State Tuberculosis Commission, was present at the Tuesday session, and delivered an interesting address to the teachers on "Health By Indirection." After the Institute adjourned the teachers visited the Health Exhibit Car, at the L. & N. passenger station. Addresses were made by Miss Minnaker, the visiting nurse; Prof. Eubank, Prof. Paul Luttrell, of Georgetown, and others.

The following teachers are in attendance at the Institute: Mrs. Hallie Ardery, Mrs. Lida Essxé, Mrs. Alma Pryor, Misses Gertrude Bramel, Anna Burns, Mary Calnan, Nannie Clarke, Julia Clarke, Susie Clay, Virginia Crutcher, Mary Desha, Mary Belle Dunington, Drusie Elliott, Margaret Evans, Lola Gray, Belva Hill, Miss Houchin, Jennie Howard, Mary Fifian Hutchcraft, Lena and Nora Hudson, Hazel Kerr, Margaret Lenihan, Lillian Mason, Kizzie May McDaniel, Bessie Miller, Margaret Minogue, Louise Myall, Mattie and Minerva Neal, Ira Oder, Jessie May Ockerman, Alman Rice, Amanda Rummons, Mac Shannon, Nancy Sojs, Irene Tackett, Martha Viley, Nanette Wallingford and Messrs. R. H. Ellett and R. M. Roberts.

The sessions of the Institute Wednesday were full of interest. In the morning a special program made up hymns, vocal solos, duets, piano solos and a quartette, was rendered.

The roll call was responded to with nature quotations. Interesting addresses were delivered by Prof. I. H. Booth, of the Richmond Normal School, and Prof. John F. Smith, of Berea College. Secretary Earl L. Mast, of the Paris Y. M. C. A., gave a talk on "Games and Amusements of the Country School."

The afternoon session opened with a vocal solo by Miss Desha. Two addresses were given, Mr. Eubank speaking on "Discipline," and Prof. Booth on "Method."

Among the visitors present was Professor E. M. Costello, of North Middleton, who has attended institutes for thirty-two years.

On Thursday Prof. McHenry Rhodes, of Lexington, State Superintendent of High Schools, delivered an address to the trustees of the rural schools. This afternoon at 3 o'clock Miss Cora Wilson Stuart, of Morehead, who originated the Moonlight School System in the mountains, will be present and address the teachers.

The text books will be on hand, and all the rooms will be in readiness for the coming of the pupils and teachers.

INSURANCE MAN ARRESTED
HERE WANTED IN LOUISIANA.

The Winchester Democrat says: "Miss Lucy Simms of Paris, Ky., who was the guest last week of Miss Sarah M. Buckner, of this city, has just returned from a trip to Europe. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. W. E. Simms. Mrs. Simms, Miss Simms and Miss Frances Johnson sailed on the Baltic from Liverpool nearly two weeks ago. At the time the Baltic sailed five German warships were known to be in the path of the Baltic. But while only a few miles off the English coast, word was received that one of the German ships had been sunk and the other four definitely located. During the entire passage the Baltic's lights were muffled and her course was altered two hundred miles to avoid the remaining German ships. Outside the excitement of dodging the Germans, the Baltic arrived after a voyage of ten days. It was by extreme good fortune that these Bourbon ladies secured passage at this time and arrived from their long journey without molestation."

FORMER PARIS GIRL BLIND.

Mrs. Thomas Martin, of New York, formerly Miss Jessie Adams, of Paris and Winchester, is totally blind and in a serious condition at her home in that city. Mrs. Martin is attended by three specialists, but little hope is entertained for her recovery.

Mrs. Martin is the daughter of Mr. Wm. Adams, one of the best known newspaper men in Kentucky, who was a resident of Paris for many years. After leaving the newspaper business here he was for several years Secretary and local manager of the Paris Hedge Fence Company, a local concern. He afterward removed to Winchester and associated in the newspaper business with his brother, Jas. J. Adams, on the Winchester Sun. He died of a stroke of apoplexy while on duty in the office of the Winchester Democrat several years ago.

CARRANZA CLOSES
PORT OF VERA CRUZ.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Provisional President Carranza has ordered the port at Vera Cruz closed, according to official advices Monday to the American Government.

Gen. Funston transmitted a long report on the complications which might result, but the State Department officials were not inclined to regard it as an unfriendly action.

During the Huerta regime, Vera Cruz was similarly closed, but foreign vessels paid little attention to the order. Carranza's decree would prevent Mexican ships putting in at Vera Cruz and, if enforced in an unfriendly way, might exact heavy penalties from foreign vessels entering any other Mexican port after they had touched at Vera Cruz.

Gen. Funston called attention to the possibility that foreign ship owners desiring not to incur the displeasure of the Carranza administration might hesitate to send cargos to Vera Cruz, diminishing the food supply of the city.

In some quarters there was a disposition to regard Carranza's attitude as one of resentment against the continued occupancy of Vera Cruz by American troops, but the State Department officials did not share this view. An interruption in railway traffic between Vera Cruz and Mexico City recently occurred, but as soon as Gen. Funston announced that he would keep all rolling stock in Vera Cruz until traffic was resumed, the Mexican authorities explained that they were using trains to transport troops and immediately adjusted the touch.

Paul Fuller, personal representative of President Wilson, is due in Mexico City, September 1, to discuss with the government the questions relating to the American occupancy of Vera Cruz, as well as differences between Carranza and Villa.

Although Administration officials have not announced their position in any formal way, it is generally understood that recognition will be withheld until a complete agreement between the two chieftains has been reached and arrangements made for a constitutional election.

"MOVIES" LIABLE TO EN-COUNTER DIFFICULTIES.

Moving picture houses are liable to be confronted by another difficulty soon, owing to the European war," said manager Robt. Shea, of the Columbia Theatre, yesterday. "It is the matter of producing the carbons which are an important part of the moving picture machine. The carbons are imported in large quantities from Germany, and they are of course, impossible to get now, and the limited supply in the hands of American dealers will soon be exhausted.

We use on an average one a day and where we have a serial picture of four or five reels it often requires two carbons. I do not look for a very serious shortage for the present, but, taking into consideration the large number of picture houses all over the United States, with the consequent heavy drain upon the stocks of the supply houses, we may in a few months be confronted with a very serious state of affairs. Not only is the carbon matter one of our stumbling blocks, but there are other things that have to be imported from Germany that come in the line of picture work. Taken all together, it is not a pleasant outlook for the business."

THEATRICAL.

For the opening of B. F. Keith's regular season next Sunday afternoon, the management has arranged to offer one of the biggest attractions in the amusement world and one sure to create a sensation in Cincinnati and vicinity. At a great expense and considerable difficulty the B. F. Keith booking office has secured Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Castle themselves for one week only, in their own and original series of world-famous society dances. Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Castle are known in every city and town in America. They are the originators of the present craze for the tango, hesitation and the one-step. All the new dances now in vogue can be traced back to the Castles. America's greatest society, and even members of the European aristocracy, have bowed before the grace of the young couple, who, by their charm and talents, have won for themselves an enviable position in the hall of fame of the amusement world. To have secured the Castles for vaudeville is unquestionably a great achievement for the B. F. Keith Vaudeville Theatres, and the B. F. Keith Theatre in Cincinnati will be the first house to greet this pair on their tour of the country in the Keith houses. Mr. and Mrs. Castle will bring with them all their old dances, and many of their new creations. It is predicted that their new dances will become the rage for the coming season. They have two new dances that will replace the tango, and which possesses all the grace and thrills of this dance, but which will not be open to censor by even the most fastidious.

Surrounding Mr. and Mrs. Castle will be an all-star Keith show, and one sure to create a great amount of enthusiasm. There will be the Salon Singers in a glorious program of classical and popular music. Charlotte Ravoncroft, the beautiful and talented singing violinist, will be another big feature on this program.

The comedy numbers, and there will be several, will be offered by Flanagan & Edwards, the famous laugh-makers of vaudeville; Van Hoven, the "nut" magician, and Comfort & King, the screamingly funny entertainers.

No animal act in the world offers as much genuine entertainment as Durkin's Animals. Mr. Durkin has trained his beasts in such a wonderful manner that they perform their entire act without any direction on the stage, and they produce the famous "Dog Village." The principal feature of this sensational animal act is Bowzer, "the drunken dog."

Augmenting this great show will be motion pictures of news events in and about Cincinnati, bringing the beautiful Queen City before the eyes of the audience as they sit in their chairs. From all indication, this opening program of the B. F. Keith season should be one of the greatest vaudeville shows ever seen in that city.

"I advised the 'boys' when they enlisted for the Spanish war to take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with them, and have received thanks for the advice given," writes J. H. Careful diet is of utmost importance to men and women past fifty years of age; it keeps up their strength, and the oil-food in Scott's Emulsion is a nourishing food, a curative medicine and a sustaining tonic to regulate the functions.

It contains the medicinal fats of pure cod liver oil and science proves that they furnish twice as much energy as other foods—then too, it creates pure blood, sharpens the appetite, relieves rheumatism, strengthens the body and alleviates the ailments due to declining years.

WAR ON AMERI-
CAN FASHIONS.The Paradoxical Crinoline
Dresses Reveals the Narrowest of Underskirts.SLEEVELESS WAISTS
AND LATE COIFFURESNEW YORK, Sept. 3.
The popularity of crinoline hangs in the balance. The war is stifling Parisian news and it will probably be up to the American dressmakers whether they follow the lines set by Poiret, Doucet, and many other French houses before the war depleted their ranks, or whether it will be a period of American creations designed for American women. It is an ill wind that blows no one some good, and this terrible conflict abroad
may mean the uprising of dominating American styles!The style of wearing the hair is decidedly changed from last season
when the ears and line of the hair on
the neck and brow was invisible, but
now the hair is combed straight from
the back of the ears, leaving the ears
exposed. To be absolutely correct in Paris the hair should be drawn away
from the forehead, leaving it perfectly bare. Another way becoming to the woman with a high forehead is to have the hair parted on one side, not waved at all, but drawn back from the face with a light, straight fanning bang falling over the forehead.

A Smart Dress Developed in Attractively Combined Plain and Striped Serge.

The arrival of wider and fuller skirts cannot be denied, and many of them are held out by a heavy cord in the hem. Then there is the long, full tunic, often made of lace with a tighter underskirt below. Around the edge of the tunic are wreaths of artificial roses. The waist is of lace and the line of the low neck is outlined by these same roses.The 1870 style of bodice which is so stylish now is almost always seen sleeveless. It has a long waistline and a strap over the shoulder. This waist conforms more to the figure than the waist of a few months ago and has a lining of chiffon or very light weight silk. A striking gown of this type, which I have just seen, was made of very soft silk. The straps which went over the shoulders were not applied but in one with the dress and so wide that they drooped well over the shoulder. About the round cut decollete neck was an inch wide beaded band of jet. The sleeveless armhole had a band of beaded insertion, composed of a series of long bugles placed crosswise, with a small bead on either end at the edge.
A six-inch beaded girdle encircled
the waist drooping well over the hips.
The skirt had a long and plain tunic, slightly fulled at the waist. Just before this was noticeable a tight fitting underskirt.The modern crinoline dress is indeed paradoxical when one thinks that although skirts seem fuller there is always a tight skirt underneath.
In fact, in one of the late French magazines was shown a wonderful gown of sheerest pale pink organdy, and showing through was the figure swathed from waist to ankle.The materials for fall suits include broadcloth, gabardine, serge, prunella cloth and a new heavy cashmere.
These materials are also used for dresses, as shown in my first illustration, which is made of plain dark blue serge and novelty blue serge with a fine stripe of white upon it.The two materials are combined charmingly. Sleeves and double circular bands are of the plain serge, while the lower part of waist and skirt is of the stripes. Dainty collar and pointed cuffs of linen are charm-ingly embroidered at the corners with a floral design, adding a feminine touch of daintiness. A large flat sailor shape, called by the Parisians
"canotier," is four with this costume.The wide flat trimmed sailor is the hat of the moment. It is flat with a large, round, low crown. It is made of straw, taffeta or velvet and trimmed simply with a rose, a quill, or a snappy bow. The shape itself is suitable for as many diverse occasions as its trimming, or the material used in its making.The next illustration is of a model in brown grosgrain taffeta, which is both new and smart. The waist is made with an overwaist which has a rippling cape in the back. This is worn over a plain waist which buttons down the front. A tunic, tucked in groups of three around the waist, is worn over a tighter underskirt of striped taffeta, while a wide sash of striped taffeta ties with a large bow
just below the cape in the back.For winter suits and separate coats
the pile fabrics, such as velvet, plush and the many imitation fur cloths, are most fashionable. For the very dressy afternoon costume a delicate pile material, combined with velvet or with a chenille striped fabric, is stunning. The basic material for these stripes is usually chiffon or soft satin.Lace will be used this fall on afternoon as well as evening gowns.
White cream lace tunics over black are very good and often worn with the fashionable basque waist of satin, or velvet. Net with satin or velvet bands are, also, smart and used in the same way whether in black or white.The style of wearing the hair is decidedly changed from last season
when the ears and line of the hair on
the neck and brow was invisible, but
now the hair is combed straight from
the back of the ears, leaving the ears
exposed. To be absolutely correct in Paris the hair should be drawn away
from the forehead, leaving it perfectly bare. Another way becoming to bang falling over the forehead.But we have a full-sized moratorium

LUKE McLUKE SAYS

(Cincinnati Enquirer)
It is the easiest think in the world to be known as a Wise Man. Just let the other fellows do all the talking and then agree with them.A clock that isn't running is right every twelve hours. And that is more than you can say for a lot of men who are running.Women are very hard to please when it comes to clothes. But they are not so particular about husbands.The old-fashioned woman who used to regard her husband as her Mate
now has a daughter who regards her husband as her Meal Ticket.Married men who sow wild oats reaps grass widows.This would be a fine world if we all talked as little as we pray.THE "MORATORIUM."
War Has Resurrected a Long Buried and Very Little Used Word.You need a dictionary to keep up with the words and phrases which a war resurrects. Here comes our venerable but long buried friend "moratorium.""King George has signed a proclamation of moratorium" that is, a decree that all debts shall be paid at a later date. This is what a war does.Applied to the Bank of England, a moratorium in effect means that it can issue a larger amount of bank notes against a given amount of gold reserve. In short, the Old Lady of Threadneedle Street may and will put out a big bunch of flat money to appease hungry borrowers.It isn't the first time it has been necessary for the British Government to help the Bank of England. During the whole period of the Napoleonic wars, or for twenty-four years, the bank lived by special legislation. In 1847, again in 1857, once more in 1866 and as late as 1900 at the time of the Baring Brothers' stupendous failure, the Bank of England had to be helped.In the last-named instance the Bank of France came to its rescue with a vast quantity of gold. Even ten per cent discount rate—the highest in a century, fails to keep gold in the Bank of England. Therefore, the law governing its actions is suspended, and it may refuse to pay out gold at any price, but instead pay with its specially created fund.Both the Bank of France and the Bank of Germany may, as they now have done, stop payment of gold at any time. Napoleon and Bismarck—respective fathers of those institutions—saw the political necessity of a quasi-Government institution's hoarding all over Europe.But we have a full-sized moratorium right here in the United States—yea, even in Philadelphia. By law our banks must have behind every $5 note they issue a certain amount of Government bonds.That Aldrich emergency money of

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Frank S. Allen, at whose home in Sharpsburg she died; Mrs. Bettie Howell, of Huntington, W. Va.; and Mrs. W. A. A TIME TO GIVE THANKS.

It would be a chastening and beneficial experience for the critics of President Wilson's Mexican policy to sit down and go over their criticisms of a few weeks since, says the St. Louis Republic. Where would the world be if the United States and Mexico were at war to-day?

At this moment all mankind turns to the United States. Never before in the history of the race has a people faced such a responsibility. With the Six Great Powers of Europe already at war or trembling on the verge, this nation is the center of the world's hopes. The great ships of the Seven Seas seek asylum in our harbors; nations facing panic stretch out their hands to us for gold; we shall be called upon to feed the hungry, to do many a gracious deed to those needing the offices of the Good Samaritan perhaps to mediate between bleeding and exhausted foes. And we are in position to respond to these appeals, to preserve 100,000,000 of our own people in prosperous security, because our hands are clean of blood and we are at peace with all the world.

Suppose we had been engaged in a war of subjugation in Mexico, will all its colossal economic waste, when we were called upon to sustain the tottering business structure of the world. Suppose, to-day, the whole of South America were one red blaze of indignation because of our invasion of the territory of a Latin-American people. Suppose our financial structure, along with the strain of the moving of enormous corps and the incidental disturbances from overseas, were weighed with the necessity of financing a costly war, with all sources of international credit dried up. Suppose there were no abode of high civilization on either continent, no single nation of wealth and power to whom the hope of mankind might turn as the abode of peace. Is it not time to give thanks for the patient wisdom of the President?

COLUMBIA'S NEW PIANIST.

There's music in the air now at every performance at the Columbia Theatre, for there's a musician of decided talent and ability presiding at the piano. Miss Gladys Overmire, of Indiana, a sister of Mrs. H. M. Hamilton, is the new director.

Those patrons of the Columbia, whose sense of harmony has been sadly disturbed by the vicious onslaughts made on the unoffending instrument by other performers, will gladly welcome the advent of an accomplished and talented musician, such as Miss Overmire has proven to be. Miss Overmire assumed her new duties Wednesday afternoon.

NEW FIRM.

Mr. Howard W. Snell, who recently purchased the farm of Mrs. Mary McLeod, near Hutchison, has disposed of his interest in the grocery business of Snell & Wood, to Mr. Victor Snell, of Paris, and will go to his farm to reside. Mr. and Mrs. Victor Snell moved this week to Hutchison to reside.

THEATRICAL.

There is a laugh in every line of "Potash & Perlmutter," the famous comedy of the cloak and suit trade that manager A. H. Woods will present at the Paris Grand on Thursday, September 10th, direct from its second year at the Cohan Theatre, New York City. The three-act play is one long riot of humor—humor broken from time to time by pathos and suspense enough to form a strong dramatic contrast which holds the audience spell-bound until the very last word is spoken. Greggs' Imperial Orchestra of the Colonial Theatre, Lexington, will furnish the music. Columbia Theatre To-Day.

Four splendid reels of pictures will be shown—two from the Mutual service and two from the Universal. A talented musician is now playing the pictures at The Columbia. Don't fail to attend to-day.

SIZZLING WORDS!

A link in the long chain of unfaithful and cowardly jailers has been broken by the jailer of Bourbon county, who defended a prisoner at the risk of his own life and shot to kill when the mob began to roughly handle him. The cowardly make-up of mobs was again displayed when the men fled in confusion after the jailer, single-handed, opened fire. There was little excuse for the attempted lawlessness. The man wanted was a negro and was sure of the punishment he deserved. It is regrettable one of the mob was killed, but if his death will put a stop to lynch law it will not be in vain. Jailer Farris has rendered a distinct service to the majesty of the law and shown his regard for the sacredness of an oath by furnishing an object lesson to those who would take the law into their own hands that they do so at the peril of their lives. All honor to him!—Col. W. P. Walton, in Richmond Climax.

VOCAL AND PIANO INSTRUCTION

Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Morehead will resume teaching on Tuesday, Sept. 8. Miss Clara Belle O'Neill will assist Mrs. Morehead in the piano department. For terms, etc., inquire at the piano rooms at Morehead Piano Co., 606 Main street. It

THE NEW Y. M. C. A.

Revised plans and specifications for the proposed Y. M. C. A. building, to be erected in this city, have been received and turned over to the various contractors, and the Board of Directors will let the entire contract on September 10.

The building as now proposed will have a frontage on Main street of 68 feet, with a depth of 105 feet. The building will be of three stories, and will have a modern equipped gymnasium, swimming tank and showers. The actual work on the building will start soon.

The building will occupy the lot on Main street, adjoining the St. Charles Hotel, and will be one of the handomest structures in the city.

PROHIBITION AND TEMPERANCE

A great many people confuse Prohibition with temperance, and in this way are misled into believing that if Winchester should vote "dry" in the coming local option election, the cause of temperance would be greatly advanced in the community. As a matter of fact, this conception of the situation is entirely false, as there is little connection between prohibition and temperance. "You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink." And you may prohibit a man from drinking, but you can't make him quit.

The only way in which the cause of temperance can be promoted effectually is by the education of the individual. If an appeal to a man's moral character does not PREVENT his drinking, then there would be little use to PROHIBIT it. A man is in many respects just a grown up boy. Forbid the lad admission to the pantry, and he will risk the worst licking of his life for a taste of jam. And so it is with a man, with regard to liquor.

Dr. William Osler, a noted physician of the Johns Hopkins University, has declared in one of his famous medical books that "more people die every year from intemperance in eating than in drinking." Therefore it will be seen that to prohibit a man from drinking because some men imbibe too freely is no more reasonable than to prohibit the sale of certain articles of food because that particular article "does not agree" with some individual.

Temperance is temperance—in eating, in amusements, in every kind of human self-indulgence, as well as in drinking. Any intemperance cannot be prevented by legislation, and prohibition cannot be made to prohibit.

It would be a misconception of the liquor problem to attempt to control the personal habits of any man by a law prohibiting the sale of liquor. The law does not prohibit a man from BUYING all the liquor he can get—only the dealer from selling. And what is more reasonable to suppose than that the man who buys will go to a dealer in some other town who is not prohibited from selling. And what town is closer and "wetter" and greedier than Lexington.

Lexington reached out and drew to herself the Burley Tobacco Society, which had been nourished in its infancy and "taught to walk" by Winchester. And the business men of that city doubtless chuckled in their sleeves at the ease with which they did it. Shall we again be the "easy marks" and witless dupes of Lexington.—Winchester Sun.

Words to the Wise.

If George Washington could own a brewery and be a gentleman, there is no reason why you cannot be a good citizen and vote against prohibition.

When our dry friends tell their audiences that West Virginia went dry by 93,000 majority, why do they not tell them that the up-to-date progressive cities of that State, without a single exception voted wet by overwhelming majorities?..Wheeling, the metropolis of the State, rejected prohibition by 5,000 majority. It was the dry backwoods counties, populated by moonshiners, bootleggers and people with childish minds, that overcame the wet majorities in the cities and put West Virginia in the "dry" column.

Prohibition does not keep the city clean from the things that debauch youth...On the contrary, it breeds sneaks, liars, hypocrites, perjurers and petty criminals, any one of which is a greater menace to morality than the worst drunkard. A man may, once in a while, misjudge his capacity and be a gentleman, but a sneak can never be anything but a SNEAK. A gentleman may take a drop too much, and still be a man of truth and honor, but a liar forever trashes the royal standard of manhood in the dust. A good fellow, in the excess of joy over the birth of a son, or a successful business or political venture, may take on a load that he cannot carry and still be loyal to friendship, a soul of honor—but to be a successful hypocrite he must murder manhood and DRIVE VIRTUE FROM HER THRONE.

A dry orator in a speech some time ago said: "75,000 die annually of alcoholism in America." Uncle Sam keeps a record of deaths from all causes, and he says less than 3,000 die annually...The gentleman separated himself from the truth by 72,000.

Our dry friends should get together and agree upon some certain number to die annually of alcoholism in this "land of the free and home of the brave." None of them place the number at less than 50,000. The author of the bill for nation-wide prohibition declares 700,000 is the correct number. The rest are scattered along between the lowest and highest "assertion."

Too bad, girls, but there's no help in sight.

JOHNSON UNABLE TO APPEAR

The examining trial of Beverly Johnson, the negro who is charged with breaking into the residence of Engineer Henry Meade, on South Main Street early last Saturday morning, and whose defense from a mob by Jailer Jos. Farris the same night at the jail cost the life of the leader of the mob, was called for Wednesday, but continued. Johnson's injuries were such that he was unable to appear, and he is still in a critical condition from the effects of the wounds inflicted with a hatchet by Mr. Meade.

It has been intimated from a number of sources that when Johnson is able to talk he will make some startling disclosures entirely different from the accepted version of the affair at the Meade home. It is said these disclosures will make the action of the mob that sought his life look all the blacker and unjustifiable.

A Family History

Ancestor Max Jukes, born in New York in 1720, was a lazy drunkard. Of his descendants 1,200 were proved to be occupants of penal and charitable institutions before 1874. Not one was ever elected to public office and not one ever served in the army or navy, or in any way helped public welfare. On the contrary, they cost society more than $1,000 each, or a total of $1,200. Three hundred and ten were in poor houses, 2,300 years in all; 300, one in four of his descendants, died in childhood; 440 were viciously diseased; 400 were physically wrecked early by their own viciousness; 50 more were notorious women; 7 were murderers; 60 habitual thieves; 130 were convicted for miscellaneous crimes.

EARLY NEWS BULLETINS FROM EUROPEAN WAR.

ITALY VERGES ON WAR.
PARIS, Sept. 1.—Italy is on the eve of entering the world war. The Paris Temps says that Turkey, spurred on by Germany, is ready to attack Greece in order to regain her lost islands and Saloniki.

An Italian war declaration against Turkey must follow inevitably because Italy would not tolerate the alteration of the Mediterranean equilibrium in favor of an ally of Germany and Austria.

Italy's fleet is ready for immediate action, and she has 500,000 men in arms.

RUSSIANS DEFEAT AUSTRIANS.

ROME, Sept. 1, (via London, 9:55 p. m.)—The Messaggero publishes a telegram from Sofia, Bulgaria, which says the Austrians have suffered an irreparable defeat at Zamoise, in Russian Poland, fifty miles southeast of Lubin.

BOMB DROPPED ON PARIS.

PARIS, Sept. 1, (6:20 p. m.)—A German biplane passed over Paris at 4:30 o'clock Monday afternoon and dropped a projectile, which, however, did not explode.

BRITISH CHECK FOE'S ADVANCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Seventy thousand British troops for three days held in check 200,000 German troops until relieved by French reinforcements, according to information received here Monday through neutral diplomats. The advices did not give the place of the battle.

Although the German forces broke through the British lines in many places the English held their own until French reinforcements arrived, and then retired in good order.

Military experts of the allied forces were reported to have been greatly encouraged by the manner in which the British forces withstood the superior forces of the enemy. The information came from Paris through diplomatic forces.

GERMAN LINE LENGTHENED.

PARIS, FRANCE, Sept. 1.—The steady retreat of the allied armies in Northern France and the Government's refusal heretofore to send to the front thousands of able-bodied men seem to point to the following conclusions, according to supporters of France's defensive policy:

By retreating to the present second line of defense the French shorten their front and foil the German attempt to flank them. The further the Germans are drawn into the country the harder it will be to obtain supplies and the greater the number of troops needed to guard the lengthening lines of communication.

The allied armies meanwhile are virtually intact and ready to strike a decisive blow at the weakened Germans.

WAR NOTES FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 1.—A long official statement is issued by the French War Office, reviewing the operations in Belgium and along the French frontier. A new retirement by the allied forces is reported, while at the same time the statement is optimistic with reference to the opposition which the French and British are offering to the German advance.

No definite details are forthcoming regarding the general battle which apparently is in progress all along the line.

The French War Minister has inspected the supplementary defenses around Paris, which are being rapidly pushed forward in anticipation of a possible investment of the French capital.

An Antwerp dispatch credits Gen. Pau with a victory over 50,000 Germans near Peronne. Whether this is a new victory or one to which reference was made several days ago is not known.

Queen Elizabeth, of Belgium, and her children have arrived in England.

According to official advices received at Washington, France is considering the advisability of moving the seat of government to Bordeaux.

Great Britain has joined with France in objecting to the purchase by the United States of German liners in connection with the plan to build up an American merchant marine.

The moratorium proclamation at the outbreak of the war in Great Britain has been extended for another month.

AMERICAN TOURISTS RELIEVED
WASHINGTON, September 1.—Disbursement of gold to Americans in Europe and arrangement for special trains by American embassies have brought the work of relief to its final stages.

The American Charge at St. Petersburg announced to-day of the receipt of the money from the cruiser Tennessee, which has been distributed to Consuls. He reports all Americans will be out of Russia by the end of the week.

Relief trains from Berlin to Rotterdam are taking care of Americans gathered there from many points. The Consul at Leipzig reports that "all fears for Americans may be dismissed" in his district.

ENGLAND ACCEPTS AID.
LONDON, Sept. 11.—The official Press Bureau, in an announcement this morning, says the Government has graciously accepted an offer from the people of Alberta of a half-million bushels of oats for the use of the army, and from the Government of Quebec 4,000,000 pounds of cheese.

PROMISES TO AID YANKEES
WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Count Von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, to-day telegraphed Secretary Bryan, from New York, saying that in the event of the investment of Paris he would make every effort to secure the safe departure of Americans from Paris through German lines.

TO INSTRUCT AVIATORS.
PARIS, FRANCE, Sept. 1.—Louis Blériot, the first aviator to fly over the English Channel, announces that he will establish an aeroplane school for pilots, and will instruct them in the business of bomb dropping.

DESIDES "PATRIOTIC RETICENCE."

LONDON, Sept. 1.—Premier Asquith publicly reprimanded the London Times in the House of Commons Monday afternoon for having published a dispatch which created excitement Sunday morning.

"The publication of this dispatch," said the Premier, "seems to me a regrettable exception to the patriotic reticence which the press as a whole has shown up to the present, and I trust it will not recur."

GERMAN CRUISER CHASES JAP LINER.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—The Japanese liner Chiyō Maru, which arrived here Monday, reports that on the night of August 29 she was chased for four hours by a German cruiser, but escaped by crowding all speed.

The cruiser appeared from the rear about 8:30 p. m. and threw a beam from her searchlight on the Chiyō's stern. Captain Green detailed an extra force of stokers and soon was making 20 knots. At this speed he began to draw away from the pursuer and was able to keep out of range of the cruiser's bow chasers. Shortly after midnight the last gleam of light from the cruiser was swallowed in the night and the Chiyō, shifting her course, was able to make good her escape. She appeared off the American coast that morning far north of the trade route and hugged the three-mile limit to port.

BRITISH STEAMER IS SUNK BY GERMAN CRUISER.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The British steamship Holwood has been sunk by the German Cruiser, off the coast of South America, according to a cablegram received here by the owners of the Katherine Park, which has the crew of the ship aboard. The cablegram, which was from Rio Janeiro, did not state the time or place of the sinking, nor did it give the name of the German cruiser, probably the Dresden.

BERLIN EXCITED.

BERLIN, Aug. 16.—(By Mail via Switzerland)—Up and down the pavements and the central garden avenue the Berlin people now pace all day and some of the night. They are intensely excited—but they do not shout or clamor and no one sings a speech.

Every now and then a band of students and girls goes singing down the street, waving flags, and pushing through the crowd.

They sing Germany's great national songs. "Die Wacht am Rhein" and "Deutschland, Deutschland über Alles," are far the favorites, but sometimes one hears the Blucher song of "The Old Field Marshal" and other echoes of the "War of Liberation" just a century ago.

For a while the crowd runs after them cheering. But another excitement carries them away. A taxi or van drives rapidly through and men stand in it flinging out shingle sheets, printed in large type, with the latest rumor or fact. These are the "Extra-Blatter" of the various newspapers. They are gratis.

BERLIN SAYS ALLIES HAVE BEEN DEFEATED.

BERLIN, (Via The Hague), Sept. 1.—The War Office to-day declares the French and English armies have been driven back with heavy losses, near LaFere, and that the German advance on Paris continues.

The operations all along the line of battle throughout France are characterized as "satisfactory," and it is stated that the German forces under the Crown Prince, operating from near Longwy, have enjoyed uninterrupted success.

JAILER FARRIS COMMENDED.

Under the heading, "A Lynching That Failed," Sunday's issue of the Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune editorially commends and endorses the action of Jailer Jos. Farris, of Paris, in defending the prisoner and himself last Saturday morning in the following:

LYNCHING THAT FAILED.

That Kentucky jailer who stood off a mob bent on the pastime of lynching a negro, deserves a medal and vote of thanks from the Kentucky Legislature, provided the members of that august body really believe the laws they labor to put on the statute books are worthy of respect and should be enforced.

"Because lackadaisical and cowardly officers of the law have permitted mobs to wreck vengeance on prisoners without resistance the habit of lynching for crimes against women has grown until now 'regulators' assume the prerogative of hanging negroes for petty larceny. If the people could be impressed with the fact that the invocation of mob law weakens every bulwark of liberty and of defense enjoyed by the common every day citizen these sporadic outbursts of outlawry would cease and self-control, the highest attribute of civilization, would supplant wild desire for bloody vengeance."

"Past experiences have led members of mobs to believe they may act without danger to themselves. Whatever opposition has been met usually has been of a sham character and many men who take oaths to uphold the laws and constitution of the State evidently think it better to let the law slide rather than shoot a neighbor and a voter whose ballot might be needed in the next election.

If more Sheriffs and Jailors would exercise the same courage and determination shown by the Kentucky official lynching soon would cease to be a thing of reproach in Kentucky.

"Kentucky would have a better name in some directions if there had been more jailers like Farris, of Paris."

WHAT'S THE REASON?

Many Paris People in Poor Health Without Knowing the Cause.

There are scores of people who drag out a miserable existence without realizing the cause of their suffering. Day after day they are racked with backache and headache; suffer from nervousness, dizziness, weakness, languor and depression. Perhaps the kidneys have fallen behind in their work—give them the help they need. You can use no more highly recommended remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills—endorsed by people all over the country and by people in Paris.

Mrs. Hodge, 821 West St., Paris, Ky., says: "I had dizzy and nervous spells and my back and head ached, showing that my kidneys were weak. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised; I used them and they gave me relief."

Mrs. Hodge is only one of many Paris people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Hodge had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50¢ all stores. The tailor-made girl has gone out of style, but the home-made girl is still with us.

Cheer up! Maybe if you were a millionaire and had all the coin you could blow in you would only wind up with Locomotor Ataxia. And being poor keeps many a fellow from making a fool of himself.

The result is about the same, but some men didn't know it was loaded and other men marry for money.

I don't know much. But I have been around enough to know that there ain't no such animal as a Good Loser.

When a woman gets the idea that her husband is a Necessary Evil, and that she has to have some one to pay the bills, it won't be long until some divorce lawyer has the price of a new runabout.

After they have been married about four weeks and Lovey begins to play Old Sleuth by kissing Honey to see if he has been drinking, the Honeymoon locks itself in a room and blows out the gas.

$100 REWARD—$100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

KENTUCKY DECLARES WAR.

A call for volunteers has been issued by the State of Kentucky. It deals with war, war upon a condition that has existed in the Blue Grass State for many years. There are 208,084 men and women in Kentucky who can not read or write. This appalling condition is in measure due to the school districts of the State, which have not furnished adequate educational facilities. But in the main the large percentage of illiteracy must be attributed to the lack of desire for knowledge evinced by men and women who are content with primitive methods of intellectual intercourse. They have been isolated from the world for many decades, and, while they have resisted educational advancement with almost Chinese obstinacy. There have been cases known in which parents have kept children from school because they did not wish their progeny to have an intellectual advantage over them.

Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, president of the Kentucky Illiteracy commission, has issued an eloquent appeal to Kentuckians to assist in wiping this blot of ignorance from the State. She wants men and women who will go into the mountains and other districts where illiteracy obtains and teach untutored eyes and hands. But the enthusiasm of Mrs. Stewart and the number of volunteers will not be available unless the educational laws of Kentucky are more stringently enforced. In her task as chairman of the illiteracy commission requires not only teachers, but compulsory school attendance in fact as well as in theory.

The reward is worth the battle. The illiterates of Kentucky are men and women, who in many instances can trace their lineage back to Virginia days before the migration that settled the Blue Grass State. And when they are brought out of darkness and given a place in the sun they will constitute a citizenship of which Kentucky will be proud.—Cincinnati Times-Trib.

I soon realized that I had gotten the right thing for they helped me at once. Since taking two bottles of them I can eat heartily without any bad effects." Sold by all dealers.

GAME WARDENS MAKE THINGS LIVELY IN HARRISON.

Having received intimations that the fish-and-game laws were being violated in the neighborhood of Claysville, in Harrison county, State Game Wardens Geo. M. Hill, of this city, and Cash Shaw, of Frankfort, quietly slipped into that neighborhood last week and put the suspected parties through the third degree, with the result that some very interesting evidence was gathered, and a large number of fish nets and traps of illegal size were destroyed. The Game Wardens had been previously supplied with information as to the location of the nets and the traps, and went after the guilty ones with a vengeance. For twenty days a special officer in the employ of the Fish and Game Commission had been in the neighborhood working in conjunction with the officials, and when the trap was ready to spring, Wardens Hill and Shaw made their visit of inspection.

The search and chase continued two days, during which time hundreds of fish traps, nets, seines and other illegal paraphernalia of the pot-hunter fisherman kind were brought to light and destroyed.

By promising to keep within the law henceforth and forever more the men were not arrested, but were warned that a second offense would be very disastrous to them.

The efforts of the Game Wardens to break up the illegal taking of fish from the streams of Harrison county has been generally commended by all law-abiding citizens of the county.

TRACHOMA PROCLAMATION

Whereas, Trachoma, a highly contagious and infectious chronic eye disease, long a pestilence in the older counties and usually spreads by means of wash-basins, towels, pencils and other things used in common by children and families, and which, without prompt recognition and persistent treatment, results in serious and permanent impairment of vision or blindness in a large majority of cases, is officially reported by experts of the U. S. Public Health Service as wide spread in the counties of Breathitt, Clay, Jackson, Lee, Leslie, Owsley, Perry and adjacent sections, with many cases in Jefferson and Clark counties and more or less spread into almost every other county in Kentucky, presenting to officials and people problems, both health, economic and humanitarian, demanding prompt and concerted action, especially by school authorities and others having the care of children with whom the ravages of the disease seems most disastrous.

Now, therefore, be it known, that the State Board of Health of Kentucky in the exercise of authority vested in it by law, hereby forbids any person afflicted or suspected to be afflicted with trachoma, commonly known as "red sore eyes," to attend any school, public or private, in this Commonwealth as teacher, or pupil, and requests and instructs all physicians, teachers, school trustees, county and city boards of health and other officials and good citizens to assist and co-operate in preventing the further spread of this disease, otherwise likely to entail misery to individuals and a burden upon taxpayers almost beyond calculation in the light of experience with it in other and older countries. It further instructs county and city boards of health, in cooperation with their respective city council and fiscal courts to inaugurate and execute and to require the heads of families and other persons to execute such sanitary regulations as such boards may consider expedient to prevent the spread of trachoma which is hereby declared to be an epidemic and communicable disease and to this end they are requested to bring all persons infected with trachoma under prompt and proper treatment during premonitory or other stages of the disease.

By order of the Board, this September 1, 1914.

JOHN G. SOUTH,
President.

A. T. McCORMACK,
Secretary. (4-1t)
